Samadhi Buddhist Vihara

May Triple Gem Bless You

Samadhi Buddhist Vihara Patron Contributions

Samadhi Buddhist Vihara is the sole Sri Lankan Buddhist temple in the South Island of Aotearoa, New Zealand. Being the only religious institution of its kind, the Samadhi Buddhist Vihara fosters a myriad of religious, spiritual, and cultural activities, extending its outreach far beyond the Buddhist community in Christchurch; thus, creating possibilities for all Sri Lankans to connect in various virtues.

The cultural and spiritual efforts conducted since the Vihara's establishment in 2002, owe their existence to the generous and continuing support of all of you devotees of Dhamma and the Vihara. To be able to continue and enhance the Samadhi Buddhist Vihara's current religious and cultural undertakings, all of us at the Samadhi Buddhist Trust, along with the Honourable resident Bhantes, are now seeking for your most generous support in donations.

The Vihara typically incurs significant costs in mortgage repayments, insurance premiums, expenses on electricity, telephone, and internet service, as well as the healthcare expenses of the Honourable Resident Bhantes. Additionally, various miscellaneous administrative costs contribute to the financial commitments of the vihara.

May we please request you to extend your kind donations (of any amount between 10-50 NZD per month) via direct debit from your bank account. Alternatively, you may use the donation box on the temple premises, if more convenient. Please find the Samadhi Buddhist Vihara's bank account details at the back of this booklet for your donations.

May the merits of this virtuous effort
bring you and your family more success,
good health, wealth, and longevity!

May it guide you towards the eternal bliss of Nibbana!
